MAGNIFICENT NEW BUILDING.

The Hendricks Building, on Beach Street, Practically Completed.—Opening Tomorrow And Monday.

After many months of delay, occasioned by the slowness of iron manufacturers in furnishing the iron work necessary, the handsome building erected by J. A. Hendricks, on the corner of Beach street and Magnolia avenue is practically completed and tomorrow the store room will be thrown open to the public.

Owing to the continued ill health of Mr. Hendricks, he has disposed of a part of his business to F. M. Call, a prominent business man of St. Louis. The new firm is styled "The Hendricks Mercantile Company," and the same line of business will be continued as has been in the past so successfully conducted by Mr. Hendricks.

The new building is by far the handsomest structure in Daytona, in fact would be a credit to any city. It is three stories high, of double width, and is fitted with every modern convenience.

The largest stock of goods ever opened in Daytona will be on exhibition at the opening tomorrow, and the magnificent building will be decked in holiday array for the inspection of the public.

Mr. Call, the manager, announces that in lieu of the cheap souvenirs usually given away on occasions of this kind, the firm will give each customer a discount of ten per cent on each and every purchase.

Otto Wehner, who was so long with Mr. Hendricks, will retain his important position with the new firm.

"I am delighted with Daytona and I am sorry that I did not come here sooner," were the words the reporter heard a lady remark yesterday afternoon. The scribe also heard the lady say in an undertone to a friend that she was agreeably surprised to find such good roads around Daytona, and that she had been out driving every day for two weeks, with the exception of three days, and that on each occasion she had a most delightful time.

The other lady began to tell her experience and it seemed as if she was an enthusiast at angling, for the words which the reporter heard as they parted were, "They were ever so long and they bit furiously."

At the Target Range.

Private A. H. Schmidt and Sargeant Thomas Melton, of the Halifax Rifles visited the target range west of the city Thursday afternoon. For 200 yards, slow fire, Mr. Melton made 70 points out of a possible 100; Mr. Schmidt 68 points out of 100. At rapid fire the latter made 21 out of a possible 25, while Mr. Melton made 17 out of 25. The marksmen had not visited the range for four months, and Thursday's shooting is considered exceptionally good.

O. B. Floyd, of Orlando, representing a Savannah grocery house, spent Wednesday in the city on business.

Mrs. R. H. Rulon and Mrs. R. Watkins, of Columbia, Tenn., who have been enjoying a stay of two months at The Despland, will leave this afternoon on the return trip home.

John H. Troy expects to leave in two or three weeks for City Island, N. Y., where he will assume charge of the steam yacht Volodia. The boat is seventy-five feet in length.

Captain Rose Zuber, of the steam yacht Ida, has returned to the city from Miami. Arthur Smith, the engineer of the boat, is expected here during the next few days. The Ida has been stored at the Magic City.

CIRCULATING WILD REPORTS.

Daytona was Never in a More Healthy Condition Than at the Present Time.—No Sickness Here.

A visiting physician, who arrived at one of the hotels Thursday afternoon, said that he came from Sanford, and that parties there told him to avoid Daytona, as there was an epidemic of malaria and typhoid fevers existing in this city. He says that he paid but little attention to the warning, not believing that the report was true. He was glad to learn the real condition of the city, as he was soon informed after arriving here.

The city of Daytona was never in a more healthy condition than at the present time. There is little sickness, and the kinds that exist are due to the carelessness of persons staying out in damp weather. The result is that they catch a cold.

These reports, as circulated in other towns, about Daytona, are ridiculous, and have no foundation whatever. It is only a case of jealousy that prompts such motives.

DeLand was represented in the city Thursday by M. J. Curley.

Among the visitors to the city Thursday was C. M. Barton, of Jacksonville.

George F. Proctor, a well-known citizen of Jacksonville, spent Thursday in the city.

J. S. LeFils, of Jacksonville, representing The Benedict-Pollock Company, a wholesale dry goods house, spent Thursday here.

Mayor Greene has sold the west end of his lot to the Florida East Coast Railway Company. The railroad company will use the land on which to build a switch.

Mrs. S. H. Smith, her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Snyder and the latter's little son, who have been staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Gillis, Jr. on Ivy Lane, expect to leave today for Chattanooga, from whence they will go to their home in Indianapolis.

Prominent Visitors.

Among the prominent visitors enjoying the attractions of Daytona is Lieutenant Governor W. G. Harding, of Ohio. He is accompanied by Mrs Harding, Mr. and Mrs C. C. Fisher Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Christian and Mrs. I. Norris, of Marion, Ohio. They have quite a number of friends in the city, among them being Mr. and Mrs. A. H. King, of Marion, Ohio, who are having a handsome home built on Magnolia avenue. The party of Ohio people are delighted with the place and expect to remain for some time yet. Lieutenant Governor Harding is one of the Buckeye State's best known politicians and for a long term of years he has been connected with public affairs in that state.

Have Extended Stay.

The excursion party hailing from Joliet, Ill., who have been at The Ridgewood since Monday, have decided to prolong their stay several days. The visitors are enjoying their stay here to the utmost, and they report being delightfully entertained at their hotel. They have taken the trip on the Tomoka and to New Smyrna and they were delighted with the river scenery.

Fitzhugh Lee, of Atlanta, was an arrival at the Daytona House last night.

P. D. Parker, a well-known citizen of Oak Hill, was a business visitor to the city Monday.

A. O. and W. P. Arnold, of Jacksonville, were among the business visitors to the city Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs A. M. Harrison, of Scranton, Pa., are in the city. They are guests of the Daytona House.

Frank Gautier, of Crescent City, who has many friends in Daytona spent Thursday here. Mr. Gautier represents a Jacksonville grocery house.

J. H. Day, of Cincinnati; Mr. Mrs. J. S. Patrick, of Burlington, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Teeter, and Mrs. F. F. Teeter, of Collingwood, Ind., are among the guests at the Palmetto House.

GREENE AFTER THE VIOLATORS.

He Says the Automobilists Must Stop the Fast and Reckless Driving of Their Machines.

Mayor Greene, when seen by a representative of this paper today, said, that unless the automobilists stop their fast driving, they will be arrested and brought up before him. He said that Daytona being a tourist town automobiling was a popular sport here, but that the lives of people should not be jeopardized by others who persist in fast and reckless driving. The Mayor has given his force orders to keep a sharp lookout for violators of the law, and it is very likely that some arrests will occur during the next few days, unless there is somewhat of a lull in the fast driving.

Automobile people should endeavor to keep within the bounds of the law, or the authorities will make it very unpleasant for them.

McCoy Brothers inform this paper that they will not place their ferry boat in operation before next season, owing to the lateness of the season and the fact that the engine has not yet arrived.

U. M. Bennett, a DeLand lawyer, was in the city Thursday on business.

THE ALBATROSS

From "The Ancient Mariner"

By Samuel Taylor Coleridge

SAMUEL TAYLOR COLERIDGE, poet, philosopher, critic, was born in Devonshire in 1772 and died in London in 1834. He was one of the greatest literary geniuses of his time, but marred his life by his habit of using opium. Wordsworth called Coleridge "the most wonderful man that I ever met." The stanzas given are from his best known poem, "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner."

At length did cross an albatross—
Through the fog it came.
As if it had been a Christian soul,
We hailed it in God's name.

It ate the food it ne'er had eat,
And round and round it flew.
The ice did split with a thunder fit;
The helmsman steered us through.

And a good south wind sprung up behind;
The albatross did follow
And every day, for food or play,
Came to the mariner's hollo.

In mist or cloud, on mast or shroud,
It perched for vespers nine,
Whiles all the night through fog smoke white
Glimmered the white moonshine.

The sun now rose upon the right—
Out of the sea came he,
Still hid in mist, and on the left
Went down into the sea.

And the good south wind still blew behind,
But no sweet bird did follow
Nor any day for food or play
Came to the mariner's hollo.

And I had done a hellish thing,
And it would work 'em woe,
For all averred I had killed the bird
That made the breeze to blow.
Ah, wretch, said they, the bird to slay
That made the breeze to blow!

Nor dim nor red, like God's own head,
The glorious sun uprist.
Then all averred I had killed the bird
That brought the fog and mist.
'Twas right, said they, such birds to slay
That bring the fog and mist.

The fair breeze blew, the white foam flew,
The furrow followed free.
We were the first that ever burst
Into that silent sea.

Down dropt the breeze, the sails dropt down—
'Twas sad as sad could be,
And we did speak only to break
The silence of the sea.

All in a hot and copper sky
The bloody sun at noon
Right up above the mast did stand,
No bigger than the moon.

Day after day, day after day,
We stuck, nor breath nor motion,
As idle as a painted ship
Upon a painted ocean.

Water, water everywhere,
And all the boards did shrink;
Water, water everywhere,
Nor any drop to drink.

The very deep did rot—O Christ,
That ever this should be!
Yea, slimy things did crawl with legs
Upon the slimy sea!

About, about, in reel and rout,
The death fires danced at night;
The water, like a witch's oils,
Burnt green and blue and white.

THE PICKET GUARD

By Ethel Lynn Beers

"All quiet along the Potomac," they say,
"Except here and there a stray picket
Is shot as he walks on his beat to and fro,
By a rifleman hid in the thicket."
'Tis nothing—a private or two now and then,
Will not count in the news of the battle,
Not an officer lost—only one of the men
Moaning out, all alone, the death rattle.

All quiet along the Potomac tonight,
Where the soldiers lie peacefully dreaming,
Their tents in the rays of the clear autumn moon,
Or the light of the watch fires are gleaming.
A tremulous sigh, as a gentle night wind
Through the forest leaves softly is creeping;
While the stars up above, with their glittering eyes,
Keep guard—for the army is sleeping.

There's only the sound of the lone sentry's tread,
As he tramps from the rock to the fountain
And thinks of the two on the low trundle bed,
Far away in the cot on the mountain.
His musket falls slack—his face, dark and grim,
Grows gentle with memories tender,
As he mutters a prayer for the children asleep—
For their mother—may heaven defend her.

The moon seems to shine as brightly as then,
That night when the love yet unspoken
Leaped up to his lips—when low murmured vows
Were pledged to be ever unbroken.
Then, drawing his sleeve roughly over his eyes,
He dashes off tears that are welling
And gathers his gun closer up to its place,
As if to keep down the heart swelling.

He passes the fountain, the blasted pine tree—
The footstep is lagging and weary;
Yet onward he goes, through the broad belt of light
Toward the shade of the forest so dreary.
Hark! was it the night wind that rustled the leaves?
Was it moonlight so wondrously flashing?
It looked like a rifle—"Ah, Mary, goodby!"
And the life blood is ebbing and plashing.

All quiet along the Potomac tonight,
No sound save the rush of the river;
While soft falls the dew on the face of the dead—
The picket's off duty forever!

A Wonderful Child.

Zerah Colburn when a child had the most wonderful memory for figures ever known. He performed operations of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division on sums involving from eleven to twenty places of figures without setting one down on paper. Being once asked to raise eight to the sixteenth power, he almost instantly responded, "The answer is 281,474,976,710,656."

Rapid Growth.

One time when Joaquin Miller was in Chicago he was interviewed for one of the newspapers. While he was telling of the progress of things western the reporter interrupted him with an inquiry about the numerous city conflagrations out west. The poet of the Sierras instantly replied, "Our fires are caused by the friction of rapid growth."

How Cowards Were Punished.

Many of the devices by which military indifference to life has been nurtured and sustained are curious. In ancient Athens the public temples were closed to those who refused military service, who deserted their ranks or lost their bucklers, while a law constrained such offenders to sit for three days in the public forum dressed in the garments of women. Many a Spartan mother would stab her son who came back alive from a defeat, and such a man, if he escaped his mother, was debarred not only from public offices, but from marriage, exposed to the blows of all who chose to strike him, compelled to dress in mean clothing and to wear his beard negligently trimmed. In the same way a horse soldier who lost or lost his shield or received a wound in any save the front part of the body was by law prevented from ever afterward appearing in public.

The First Electric Train.

The earliest public trial of a passenger boat driven by an electric motor was that conducted by Professor Jacobi of St. Petersburg in the year 1838, though for four years previously he had successfully experimented with electric traction in the privacy of his own grounds. The trial of Jacobi's vessel took place on the Neva and was witnessed by a vast crowd of people. The boat was twenty-eight feet long and ten feet wide and carried fourteen persons.

It was not until four years later that we find any record of a passenger carriage driven by electricity on land, and in this case the inventor was Alexander Davidson of Edinburgh. The carriage was sixteen feet long by seven feet wide and was impelled for a mile and a half at the rate of four miles an hour on the Edinburgh and Glasgow railway.

The Game of the Sheep.

Among the gypsies of Bosnia there is a curious game called "the game of the sheep."

You know they skin a sheep or goat in the east by dragging the skin off whole over its head. This skin the Bosnians drip and grease most carefully. Then they tie up the four legs and the neck and blow it full of air, so that it looks like a very greasy badly shaped sheep. This is thrown in the middle of a ring, and each man in turn jumps on it with bare feet until one succeeds in bursting it. The lucky one then gets a purse. Such a funny sight as it is to see them jump and sprawl, for of course if they do not strike it at just the right angle they slip on the greasy surface as if it were a toboggan slide and go sprawling.

Plates.

Individual plates for table use were unknown to the ancients, who held their meat in their hands or employed the flat wheaten cakes then made on which to hold their victuals. They are first mentioned in A. D. 600 as used by the luxurious on the continent, and in the ninth century they had come into common use both in England and on the continent. They were made of wood or some kind of earthenware, the former material being preferred because it did not dull the knives.

The Saturnalia.

The saturnalia was a midwinter feast of the Romans in honor of Saturn, beginning on Dec. 17. On this occasion great license was given to every one to do what he pleased, and even the slaves were permitted much liberty of speech and action. All work was suspended, the houses and temples were decorated, congratulations were exchanged and presents sent as with us at Christmas.

Better Be Careful.

A sporting paper recommends a certain way of avoiding the bites of a dog, however savage. All one has to do is to stand perfectly still and hold one's hand out. The dog, says the writer, will take the hand into his mouth, but will not bite it. But what guarantee have we that the dog knows this?—London Globe.

Differences of Opinion.

"Women are hard to understand," said the callow philosopher.

"Not at all," answered Mr. Meekton. "Henrietta has never yet spoken her mind to me without making herself perfectly clear."—Washington Star.

An Accomplished Fact.

"Grandma, may I take that piece of chocolate you left on the table? I will be so good."

"Yes, you may take it."

The little girl does not move.

"Why don't you go and get it?"

"Oh, grandma, dear, I ate it first!"

A Wonderful Child.

Zerah Colburn when a child had the most wonderful memory for figures ever known. He performed operations of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division on sums involving from eleven to twenty places of figures without setting one down on paper. Being once asked to raise eight to the sixteenth power, he almost instantly responded, "The answer is 281,474,976,710,656."

Rapid Growth.

One time when Joaquin Miller was in Chicago he was interviewed for one of the newspapers. While he was telling of the progress of things western the reporter interrupted him with an inquiry about the numerous city conflagrations out west. The poet of the Sierras instantly replied, "Our fires are caused by the friction of rapid growth."

An Expert Required.

"I wish an electrician would get rejected by Miss Snubem."

"Why do you wish that?"

"Because he might be able to explain why her negative is so positive."—Baltimore American.

Not What He Wanted.

Skinflint—I have no money, but I will give you a little advice. Beggar—Well, if yer hain't got no money yer advice can't be very valuable.

"Don't forget about Grand Mother Hobbleand's Legacy," a drama by the Daytona High School, at the Opera House, Saturday evening at 8 p. m.

It is quite evident today that there is a large number of tourists in the city as the streets during the forenoon were alive with strange people. The visitors seemed to greatly enjoy the pretty day.

Livery men in the city report business in their line good. One of them engaged in that business, this morning said that he hoped the pretty days would continue the balance of the season.

Mrs. D. H. Martin and her daughter, Miss Elsie, of St. Louis, who have been agreeable guests of The Bennett for some weeks past, left last Thursday for San Antonio, to join Mr. Martin. The latter is one of the superintendents of the Pullman Car Company, and his duties keep him constantly busy. He accompanied his family here in February and spent a week at The Bennett.

"Grand Mother Hobbleand's Legacy," will be presented by the students of the Daytona High School at the Opera House, Saturday, March 10, at 8 p. m. General admission 35c; reserved seats 50.

DADE COUNTY FAIR OPEN.

Fair Begins Under the Most Favorable Auspices With Every Indication of a Big Success.

Today sees the opening of the Dade County Fair for the year 1909, says the Miami Metropolis, of the 8th, although the doors will not be thrown wide to the public before tomorrow night. The fair begins under the most favorable auspices with every indication of resulting the best, both in the articles, natural and artificial, to be exhibited, and in attendance, the latter being most necessary in accomplishing the results at which the fair is directed. The institution is one in which the public of the county should take a deep interest. Nothing can do more towards attracting settlers and interesting people in its soil and natural advantages than it. It has done wonders already in this direction, and is destined to do even more. Those who are not exhibitors should be patrons, for they can find something there to interest them, and something that they did not know before. Don't depend upon visitors alone to patronize and support the fair. It is the duty of every one to visit it. If this be done the result will be above expectation, and the purpose thoroughly accomplished. Attend the fair.

Ridgewood Ball.

A large number of invitations has been issued to the annual ball which takes place this evening at The Ridgewood.

The affair will be among the most brilliant ever held at this hotel, and the attendance is expected to be large. The ball room will be beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Going To Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Beskaw entertained a small party of friends last evening in honor of their brother, J. M. Beskaw, who leaves today for Vernon, Texas, to engage in the nursery business with his father.

The Weather.

For East Florida: Party cloudy tonight and Saturday.

Among the railroad men in the city are S. E. Burgess, of Baltimore, traveling passenger agent of the Southern Railway and W. D. Stark, of Jacksonville, traveling passenger agent of the Atlantic Coast Line. They will remain here for three or four weeks, looking after the tourist travel. Both will divide their time between Ormond and this place.

A. F. Baldridge, of Augusta, Ga., is registered at The Ridgewood.

DAYTONA AND ITS ATTRACTIONS.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its fairest expanse and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among those trees is the town of to-day, with its beautiful cottages and well-graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lordly live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palmettos, glossy-leaved magnolias, fragrant bays and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the ampelopsis climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, marled and shelled roads and streets, rendering it the

and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long-distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers as many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages

that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those securing homes in the South and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, good telephone system, ice factory, Lily Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

Water Supply

which is derived from numerous flowing wells of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona

proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach

lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.

The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as macadam, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bared for 500 feet and neither carriage wheel, bicycle or pedestrian can make a hardly visible imprint on the smooth and well-packed sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged bicycles speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Besides these, miles of hard-shelled, palm fringed boulevards bring the lovers of the wheel and vehicles into direct touch with the mainland over the broad bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the lowest point at ebbtide, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for surf-bathing. Here the infant as well as the grey haired veteran of many summers, can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year while the strong and expert swimmer can venture out farther to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula

lying between river and ocean is one half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, an opera house, two ocean piers, beach pavilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature

at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying.

Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.

At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches 800 feet across the beach into the swelling [illegible] of the ocean. [illegible] of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf [illegible] abounds in trout, pompano, [illegible] whiting, drum, sheepshead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gamey fish in an afternoon, individuals of these ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight. Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river.

DAYTONA AND ITS ATTRACTIONS.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its fairest expanse and mooway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of to-day, with its beautiful cottages and well-graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lordly live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palmettos, glossy-leaved magnolias, fragrant bays and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the ampelopsis climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions.

The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health-giving breezes from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well-graded, maried and shelled roads and streets, rendering it the

and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long-distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages

that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those securing homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, good public and private schools, stores hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric light for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory Lily Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

which is derived from numerous flowing wells, of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. The flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and this depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona

proper is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

Daytona Beach

lies one mile east of the town. It is approached by three good bridges over the river and well-graded avenues, and is the principal summer resort south of St. Augustine. It has more tourists during the summer than all other places south of that city combined, and is also becoming a favorite winter resort. The beach is wide, firm and smooth, by many considered the finest in the world, and the surf bathing is safe and excellent summer and winter. People who have tried Northern and Western summer resorts declare that there are none so perfect comfort as Daytona beach.

Automobile Race Meet.

The Florida East Coast Automobile Association conducts an annual race meet on the beach, which has now a universal reputation as the greatest automobile race course in the world. The Daytona-Ormond Beach is hard as macadam, and an ideal stretch of thirty or more miles without a break makes it the natural racing ground for America.

At low tide the beach is bared for 300 feet and neither carriage wheel, bicycle or pedestrian can make a hardly visible imprint on the smooth and well-packed sand. It is no uncommon sight to see sail-rigged bicycles speeding with the velocity of the wind before a stiff breeze along the smooth beach, thus affording the most exhilarating sport known to man. Besides these, miles of hard-shelled, palm-fringed boulevards bring the lovers of the wheel and vehicles into direct touch with the mainland over the broad bridges which span the splendid Halifax River.

The beach from the sandy bluffs to the lowest point at ebbtide, measures about 500 feet, and the average depth of the surf measures about two feet. A continuous gentle swell rolls in from the ocean from one to two feet in depth under normal conditions, making the beach an attractive and absolutely safe place for surf-bathing. Here the infant as well as the grey haired veteran of many summers, can safely enjoy the luxury of a sea bath throughout the larger part of the year while the strong and expert swimmer can venture out further to test his strength and skill in battling with the inexhaustible powers of the mighty ocean.

The Peninsula

lying between river and ocean is one half mile wide, and is being rapidly improved, and there are many fine cottages and several good hotels, an opera house, two ocean piers, beach pavilion and a large casino.

A Remarkable Feature

at Daytona has been the yearly improvement in the style and value of the buildings that are being erected for homes. Men of capital of the North and West have become awakened to its advantages for winter residences, and valuable lots are being purchased and costly houses, beautiful in design and finish, are being erected, and beautiful homes, the abodes of wealth and culture are multiplying.

Seabreeze (City Beautiful) and Goodall are settlements on the Ocean side of the peninsula across the Halifax River from Daytona.

At the foot of Ocean Boulevard, Seabreeze, a pier reaches 600 feet across the beach into the swelling surf of the ocean. This pier is a favorite resort of those who delight in the sport of fishing. The surf here abounds in trout, pompano, yellowtail, cavalla, whiting, drum, sheepshead and many other varieties of edible fish. During the fall season the famous sea bass affords royal sport, and it has been no uncommon occurrence to land a thousand pounds of this gamey fish in an afternoon, individuals of them ranging from fifteen to thirty-five pounds in weight. Not only does the ocean offer this splendid sport but the Halifax River, only half a mile back of the ocean, is equally famous for its fine fishing, and the varieties that abound in the ocean are present in the river.
